On a motion duly made by V. Low, seconded by N. Maclellan and unanimously carried, the members approved the agenda for the 2022 Annual General Meeting.

On a motion duly made by V. Low seconded by N. Maclellan and unanimously carried the members approved the minutes from the December 14 2021 Annual General Meeting.

3. Introductions and Opening Remarks

Ann Neal introduced herself as the current President of the OEA, although this is the last year of her term and as President. A new President will be elected at the first Board meeting of the 2023 Board of Directors. The OEA Board is a dedicated group of 13 volunteers from all over the province. We have an Executive and full Board. We meet once a month. We are a not-for-profit organization committed to the sport of eventing.

4. Presidents Address

Ann Neal presented an overview of 2022 membership which shows overall membership numbers which remain high, similar to levels in 2021 when membership fees from 2020 were carried over to 2021 in light of the pandemic disruption. 58% of our members are Senior competitors (over 18), 33% are Junior competitors and the remainder are Associate and Corporate members.

She reviewed the overview of entries for 2022 which was up 50% from the year slightly from the prior year, even with a loss of two venues (Oakhurst and Lanes End) from sanctioned events. She also noted that 84% of entries were at Training level and below and the first Advanced division was offered in several years. She noted that we have an Officials Bursary program for existing and prospective officials. The OEA also provides grants to organizers through our Competition Improvement Program (CIP) and created special funding to assist with the acquisition of frangible devices to improve safety. She acknowledged the Thoroughbred Incentive Program and that awards had been identified and would be forthcoming.

a. Schooling Days

Sarah Richardson provided an overview of Schooling Days. They are intended to introduce riders to the sport of eventing but also to help existing riders upgrade their skills. As an example, she noted that the Stevens Creek XC Schooling Day held July 20th was fully subscribed with 26 registrants, with 50% of riders being new or returning to the sport. Of the riders who were new or returning, over 50% went on to enter the sanctioned horse trials the following week.

Goals for 2023 include: developing at least one additional XC venue; develop indicators of success based on data; and revisit Schooling Day policies to ensure they meet the intention of attracting new riders in a safe and sanctioned environment.

b. Volunteers

Volunteers were acknowledged and thanked as organizers couldn't run their events without them.

c. Levies

OEA has charged competitors $5 per entry to help support OEA programs, since 2007. The levies are intended to provide education, training and programs to grow our sport. In 2021 we added Part C to our CIP to specifically support the cost of frangibles. In 2022 we are also using a portion of the levies to fund Officials development by paying TDs who work as Assistant TDs for the purpose of upgrading.

5. U25 Program

Kendal Lehari gave an overview of this program in 2022. Participants were charged $100 to participate which gave riders access to clinics, a dedicated leaderboard, sponsored prizes, online education and discounted branded clothing. In 2022 there were 66 horse and rider combinations participating in the program with riders from across the province.

Kendal noted that up to a total of $10,000 in Travel and Training Grants were offered with up to $1000 per rider to assist with travel and/or to train with a coach in order to improve their skills and horsemanship. A total of 14 riders applied and twelve grants were awarded totaling $9,500 was awarded in 2022. I

At the end of August, an assessment clinic was held for the riders longlisted to attend the USEA Young Rider Championships in Tryon on November 9 to 13. We have a terrific group of riders representing Canada which will include Victoria Downey and Saffron Klotz in the CCI1*L and Cassandre Leblanc and Meghan Sauve in the CCI2*L.

Kendal also acknowledged the important sponsors which make the U25 program possible, and noted exciting changes for 2023 including:

- Opening the program up to riders at all levels (not just PT and above)
- Revamping the clinic format
- Working on new clinicians for 2023

6. Zara Buren Memorial Award

This award is being renewed for 2023 and applications will open on December 15th. Applications will close January 17th with the award winner announced on or around February 15th. The Zara Buren Memorial Award is made possible by the Zara Buren Memorial Foundation with support from the OEA. Olivia MacLeod was the 2022 winner.

7. Financial Report

Cheryl Denault, Treasurer, presented an overview of the OEA Balance sheet, expenses and revenues for the 2022 fiscal year against budget. Our financial position continues to be healthy with sustained membership numbers. It is better than we expected primarily because of our membership growth.

On a motion made by V. Low, seconded by K. Gravelle and unanimously carried, the members approved the October 31, 2022 financial statements.

8. Election of Directors

Three Directors have terms coming to an end as of November 2022 and Veronica thanked them for their service including Ann Neal, President, Caroline Abrahams, Secretary and Kelly Gravelle, Chair of the Board.
